ABOUT ME

Computer Science graduate from East West University with hands-on research and development experience in AI/ML, NLP, and graph-based recommendation systems. Proficient in Python and PyTorch, with a solid grounding in deep learning and full-stack development, and a track record of building scalable, production-ready intelligent systems from large real-world datasets.

EDUCATION AND TRAINING

06/02/2022 – 23/04/2026 Dhaka, Bangladesh

Bachelor of Science in CSE East West University

PROJECTS

RokomariBG – Bangla Book Recommendation Graph Dataset

- Built a large-scale, multi-entity heterogeneous knowledge graph dataset for Bangla book recommendation research.
- Dataset includes 127K+ books, 63K+ users, 16K+ authors, 1.5K+ categories, and 209K+ reviews connected through multiple relational types.
- Designed to support research on recommendation systems in low-resource languages and enable benchmarking of collaborative filtering, graph neural networks, and retrieval models.

Object Detection with SSL & Semi-Supervised Learning

- Developed an object detection pipeline using Self-Supervised Learning (SSL) and Semi-Supervised Learning with YOLOv10–YOLOv12 architectures.
- Explored techniques for improving detection performance with limited labeled data by leveraging large unlabeled datasets.
- Implemented training workflows, dataset preprocessing, and model evaluation for robust object detection experiments.

PUBLICATIONS

Towards Personalized Bangla Book Recommendation: A Large-Scale Heterogeneous Book Graph Dataset

- Introduced RokomariBG, a large-scale heterogeneous knowledge graph dataset for Bangla book recommendation research
